PROJECTS

- Voice Assistant using Python

My aim in building this project is to get an alternative for voice assistance like Alexa and Siri. I worked on this project for a week, and I used the Python programming language and some important Python modules.

- Student performance analysis using machine learning

According to the number of hours spent studying for the test, a machine-learning model predicts the student's result. Based on the data sets, assists in determining the efficiency of exam preparation.

- Portfolio Website

To represent my work, skills, and experience online. I have developed the website using front-end languages like HTML, CSS, and JavaScript.

ACHIEVEMENTS

- Got certified in e-learning courses like Python for Everybody, Introduction to Data Science, etc.
- Participated in many extra-curricular activities
- Won prizes in competitions like Running, Kabaddi, Kho-Kho, etc.
